A nothing bomb...

Grasping for importance.

Hi Gwen and Scott –

In follow up to our exchange from Friday and my email from this weekend, I have attached the minutes from the Stewardship Council's February 2012 meeting during which time DOE discussed the CERCLA review. My reading of the minutes leads me to believe that the conversation focused on process and not substance; the way this meeting is presented in Appendix E from 2012 suggests the conversation included both process and substance.

Thanks,

David
